NO PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD, SAYS MAYOR EY

TRUSTEES DECIDE KNOTTY POINT IN THE LAW

Act on Statement of Municipal League Official, Who Says It Not Necessary

City Attorney Had Prepared Opinion, Saying Not Mandatory to Take Action

"No primary election is going to be held in Santa Ana. A primary election is not necessary. I say that on the highest municipal authority in the State of California."

Last night Mayor Frank Ey made the above declaration at the city hall. The time was the regular meeting of the Board of City Trustees, but a quorum did not arrive. Mayor Ey and Trustee Greenleaf were the only trustees present when the mayor lifted his gavel, and declared:

"There is no quorum present. I declare this meeting adjourned." The gavel came down on the desk with a bang.

That meant it was impossible for a primary election to be called last night.

"No primary election is going to be held," declared the mayor. This was an interesting statement, for the city clerk had received opinions written for other cities of the fifth class by deputies of the attorney general, in which it was declared that a primary election is not mandatory.

And That's All There Is to It
"A primary election is not necessary," continued Ey. "I say that on the highest municipal authority in the State of California. A primary election is not advised, and we do not want to incur the expense. Further, I want to say that it ought to be against the policy of any person in Santa Ana to stir up strife and cause extra expense for the city when the expense is not necessary."

And that is all there was to the meeting. While City Attorney Heathman did not get a chance to make known his opinion, he was ready to advise the board that a primary was not mandatory.

Mayor Ey made his statement upon information received in a letter by him from William J. Locke, editor of the Pacific Municipalities. The league maintains a legal department for the purpose of giving advice to the various cities of the state. Once every year a convention is held at which municipal problems are discussed. The letter received by Mayor Ey appears in a column adjoining this article. The letter also contains a statement concerning the payment of a state auto tax upon the city's automobile and trucks.

Primary Expensive
That Santa Ana might have to have a partisan primary was not thought of until within the last two weeks, when City Clerk Lester presented the opinions of the attorney general's deputies. So far as could be learned, those who expected to be candidates at the city election did not fear the partisan primary. That some or all of the city trustees were opposed to it on the ground of expense was known. It was stated that it would cost $1000 to hold the primary election.

At the first City Attorney Heathman declared that there was no question but that a city of the fifth class would come under the primary law, and he turned his attention to an investigation to determine whether or not a primary election was mandatory. The city clerk said that the calling of the election was up to the city board, not the city clerk. On that point the city attorney was not decided.

Something Dropped
That something was going to drop at the meeting last night became conjecture yesterday afternoon. The possibility of no quorum being present was one theory upon which it was thought that the calling of a primary election might be avoided. Not until the meeting hour, 7:30 o'clock, did Mayor Ey publicly declare that there would be no primary election, basing his statement upon the authority of the Municipal League. The result would have been the same whether there was or was not a quorum present. So far as that is concerned, it is declared that the trustees could yet

Murderer of Ten-Year-Old Girl Is Refused Examination Into Sanity

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—When David Fountain, the self-confessed slayer of little Margaret Milling, 10 years old, was brought into court today, John Milling, the father of the girl, made two desperate but unsuccessful attempts to kill the prisoner.

As soon as Fountain appeared, Milling made a dash for him, but was overpowered by detectives.

Fountain then took a seat inside the railing and Milling broke loose and almost reached the prisoner, when he was overpowered by Detective Calanan and Sheriff Gormley.

Milling was placed under guard. Judge Glenn refused the defense motion for a sanity examination.

Fountain murdered Margaret Milling in the basement of the Lutheran church on December 5.

TEXAS NOT TO DIVIDE BUT BILL SERVES PURPOSE

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 16.—The bill to make a separate state out of the Panhandle section of Texas, although buried in committee today and fated to die by sentiment for the "Grand Old State," served its purpose. NEWPORT AND PLACENTIA AT ORANGE SHOW

Orange county will be represented at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino, beginning tomorrow and continuing until February 24, by only two districts, according to information secured today. Placentia and Newport Beach are the two towns that have exhibits at the big citrus show.

Placentia is making a big bid for first prize with a feature citrus display and hopes to win at least a second prize, as she did last year at the San Bernardino show. The exhibit consists of an attractively gotten up group of Valencia and navel oranges.

Newport is represented by a model of the harbor, a replica of the big body of water which the beach residents, and all Orange county people as well, hope some day to improve so that shipping may be able to make it a port of call.

THE FINEST RAIN (Apologies to Larry Harris)

There's a land of fruit and flowers where 'tis summer all the year,
And the golden, joyous hours quickly glide;
There's a place somewhere, 'tis whispered, where there's hope and love and cheer,
And the heart beats true, whatever may betide.
Though I've wandered much in alien lands where war clouds hover o'er,
I long for some sweet California dell—
Though the rain comes down in winter like it never fell before—
It's the darndest finest rain that ever fell.

The golden sands of Yukon may ebb with siren voice,
And Italy's sunny vales may beckon, too,
And far-off Honolulu may be other people's choice,
But California's the place for you.
There's Africa, the jungle, land, that never feels the rain,
There's the War-land with the shrieking of the shell—
Though the rain in winter covers California's domain,
It's the darndest finest rain that ever fell.

ROB HOUSE ON EAST FOURTH

While Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. White were away from their home at 822 East Fourth street last night, burglars entered and made off with about $4 in silver and a child's ring.

The burglary was reported to the police at 9:30 last night. The thieves got into the house through a window on the east side, first cutting the screen. They were very bold in their operations, turning on the lights and leisurely going through the house. The lights were noticed by neighbors but as they did not think anything was amiss they did not report the occurrence.

COMPROMISE TO BE REACHED ON SHIP PURCHASE MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The initial test in the House today on the ship purchase situation gave the administration a plurality of fifty-five votes. The test came on a motion to limit the gag rule on the bill. The vote resulted in 101 for the rule and 126 against, bringing the bill itself before the House.

The adoption of the gag rule assures the passage of a compromise bill in the House tonight.

By a vote of 154 to 29, the House Democrats in caucus today agreed to support the compromise government ship purchase bill as a party measure.

A fourth all night session of the senate is in prospect for tonight. With the receipt from the house of Week's amended bill, which is the administration compromise measure, the senate filibusters will resume their tactics today and fight to the last a motion to concur in the house amendment.

The original Week's bill has already passed the senate.

The house adopted the gag rule by 186 to 139, and it is expected this administration majority will be maintained tonight in the final vote on the bill itself.

GERMAN IRE IS WAXING HOT AGAINST THE U. S.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—England awaits the coming of Thursday with supreme confidence.

British officials accept the enforcement of the submarine blockade, beginning on February 18, as indicating the "beginning of the end." The profess to believe it to be Germany's last great blow.

The Zeppelins, according to this English view, have not been up to expectations, thus making the German submarines the last available weapon of the Kaiser's forces.

London believes Germany will mark her own doom as soon as she torpedoed a merchant vessel carrying passengers. The authorities insist the civilized world will not view with equanimity the sinking, without warning, of merchantmen with passengers and crews unable to save themselves.

It is believed that in view of Churchill's speech yesterday, the British, French and Russian fleets will enforce the most complete blockade ever attempted when they close in about the German coast.

The newspapers say Germany's note to the United States is a last effort of German officialdom to "save its face."

BERLIN (via Copenhagen), Feb. 16.—The American press and government apparently does not realize the depth and bitterness of feeling spreading throughout Germany against Americans.

With German newspapers publishing dispatches tending to show that the United States is siding more and more with England, the people of Germany are being worked up to a point that is difficult to exaggerate.

Officials and Americans here cannot disguise serious fears that some incident may lead to a crisis.

BERLIN (via Sayville by wireless), Feb. 16.—Warnings are published here today that the Germans must not be too anxious for quick results from the proposed operations of the submarine fleet against British commerce. Government-inspired articles say the people should wait until the submarines return to their base before accepting any reports of their operations.

Thus it probably will be several days after February 18 before results can be announced.

The article says Germany has given

WANTED MATCH MAYBE MONEY

Charles Wallace Kept Going When Asked to Stop; Party for Bride-to-Be

ORANGE, Feb. 15.—Charles Wallace ran into an attempted hold-up Saturday night as he was riding home on a bicycle. As he passed the high school a man stepped from behind a palm and tried to stop him, asking for a match. Wallace did not pause and the man then ordered him to stop but Wallace hastily pedaled out of danger.

An announcement party was given Saturday afternoon by Miss Hazel Crawford, assisted by Misses Gladys and Elba Elson, in honor of Miss Bertha McGrew, who will become the bride of Earl M. Crawford in May. The affair was given at the beautiful home of Mrs. H. A. Brown on East Collins avenue. Mrs. Brown is a sister of Miss Crawford.

The living room was attractively decorated in mustard blossoms and bells. The dining room was most beautiful, the table having for its centerpiece a huge basket of violets, trimmed with violet and pink tulle. Favours of violet colored satin bags, containing rice and a small card bearing the words "Bertha and Earl" were at each place.

A great deal of merriment was had in finding the places at the table as the cards bore the names of the guests, the letters being jumbled.

Two tiny candles were also at each place, and all were requested to make two wishes for the bride-to-be before blowing them out. A most delicious three course luncheon was served.

One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was a guessing contest, "A Floral Wedding Story," the prize being received by Miss Hubbard of Los Angeles.

Before the guests departed they were delightfully entertained by readings by Miss McGrew and Miss Hubbard. Those present were Miss Bertha McGrew and Miss Virginia Hubbard of Los Angeles, Misses Gladys and Elba Elson, Misses Mattie and Bessie Bortz, Mrs. J. P. Crawford, Mrs. Geo. Goetsch, Mrs. Neau Watson, Mrs. J. C. Jacob, Mrs. E. B. Peers, Mrs. L. B. Gitchell, Mrs. H. A. Brown and Miss Hazel Crawford.

Mrs. J. H. Widowson of South Orange street delightfully entertained a number of little folks in honor of her daughter Ida's fifth birthday, on Saturday afternoon. Various games were played, one of which was pinning the tail on a rabbit. The first prize was won by Augusta McPherson, it being a valentine, and the consolation, an all-day sucker, was given to Hazel Stinson.

Ida received many pretty little remembrances from her friends, which she prizes very much. Before the guests departed dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Arka Barker, Augusta and Elmoline McPherson, Dorothy Gatlin, Floy and Lela Stevenson, Inez and Elmer Kogler, Elva Warfel, Edna Bandick, Hazel and Edward Stinson, Katherine Frankforter, Donald Hudson, Fay Stinson, Katherine and Dorothy Hull, Clyde Becker, Mildred and Bernice Decker, Dolly Webster, Margaret Peers, Ida Widowson, and Mesdames D. Stinson, Wm. Harrod, Webster, F. Decker, Backer, Nina Frankforter, J. H. Stinson, E. Stinson, Gatlin, W. F. Barker, J. H. Widowson, and Miss Bessie Stinson.

The members of the senior class of the Orange Union High School were delightfully entertained at a Valentine party Friday evening, at the home of Miss Georgia Haynes. The house was attractively decorated with red hearts and flowers. Many amusing games were played throughout the evening. In a search for hearts Ensey Campbell succeeded in winning a prize for finding the most hearts. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present at the enjoyable affair were Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone, Misses Marion Pryne, Leila Culter, Ruth Collings, Lillian Franzen, Edith Higgins, Lyla Holt, Jessie Holditch, Ava Miller, Bertha Oehlke, Gladys Neff, Ruth Rawlings, Arden Trumble, Ruby Winterrowd and Georgia Haynes. CITY WILL NOT HOLD PRIMARIES

call the primary election if they so desire. Adjournment last night put the next vote until March 1, and there would be just time enough from that meeting to March 16, the date of the once-upon-a-time proposed primary for the fourteen days' publication of notice. The city attorney says that the election cannot be called at a special meeting.

However, the probability of there being any primary election has gone a glimmering. Those who wanted such an election were few and far between, and those who thought such an election to be useless and undesirable were many and close together.

Says Not Mandatory

City Attorney Heathman went to the Council Chamber last night armed with a written opinion in which he took the view that a primary election is not mandatory, and that if the city so desired all nominations could be made as independent nominations. The opinion prepared by the city attorney follows:

Gentlemen: In view of the approaching city election and the propriety of holding a primary election under the direct primary law of 1913, I beg leave to submit the following:

That a primary election may be held under that act by those municipal corporations not included among the chartered cities of the state cannot be denied if the governing body of said unchartered cities deem it advisable to hold such primary election. I do not find in the law or in the direct primary act that it is mandatory upon the Board of Trustees of this city to hold a primary election if a less cumbersome or expensive method may be found in the laws of the state of California.

I find that the primary law is so beset with uncertainties that it is difficult to apply the provisions of said act to a municipal corporation of the fifth class to which Santa Ana belongs. The first uncertainty occurs in the fact that the Legislature did not classify municipal officers by naming them either "partisan," "non-partisan" or "independent." I mean by this that had the Legislature designated municipal officers either as partisan, non-partisan or independent, it might have been possible for candidates to pursue the procedure in said primary act to get nominated and have their names placed on the primary ballot, but as it now exists it is not plain whether municipal officers are "partisan," "non-partisan" or "independent."

The second uncertainty lies in the fact that after candidates are nominated at the primary election under the provisions of section 1188, if they are nominated as "partisan" in the primary election all other persons desiring to be candidates may also be nominated under the provisions of said section 1188 of the Political Code, and if this be true then what good to the city has been accomplished if all persons may become candidates after the primary election, except those who were defeated in the primary election.

Section 1188 of the Political Code provides a simple method of nominating candidates for the city election provided no primary election is held, and if the board desires to use the provisions of this section, and considering that I do not believe that it is mandatory upon said board to hold a primary election, the board may declare that for the reason of all these uncertainties standing in the way of a primary election the city of Santa Ana will not avail itself of the provisions of the primary law of 1913 and will instruct its officers to have all candidates nominated under the provisions of section 1188 of the Political Code as amended by the Legislature in the year 1913, which will be sufficient for all purposes of nominating candidates.

Respectfully submitted,
W. F. HEATHMAN,
City Attorney.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

plan adopted was for each lodge to specialize in a certain degree. After March 1st, Orange lodge will confer the first degree on the first Saturday evening of each month. Candidates will be brought from Anaheim and Fullerton for this work. On the third Monday of each month Fullerton will put on the second degree and on the fourth Tuesday Anaheim will confer the third degree, candidates being brought from the two other towns to receive these degrees.

PLAIN PERJURY, SAYS JUDGE THOMAS

Records Show Man Never Lost a Minute by Reason of Alleged $30,000 Injury

ROCHESTER'S DAMAGE ACTION IS DISMISSED

Few Days After Time He Says
He Fell in Well He Performed
Feat of Strength

On the date that Clarence M. Rochester swore he fell down a well and received a $30,000 injury to his nervous system, ribs, spine, voice and legs, the matter was of so little consequence that he forgot to put it down in his daily report to his company.

A week after the alleged permanent, terrible injuries were received, Rochester went down into a well and for an hour held a man up out of the water.

Though suffering from extensive injuries that well nigh touched every portion of his anatomy, Rochester never lost a day on the job.

When these things were shown Judge Thomas this morning the action of Clarence M. Rochester against the Anaheim Union Water Company was dismissed, and Judge Thomas declared that he was convinced that Rochester in swearing to the complaint had committed perjury.

Perjury, Says Judge

"I don't see that it can be anything but absolute perjury," said he.

"His own handwriting proves it, and the testimony of R. J. McFadden, who is superintendent of the Anaheim Union Water Company, leaves no doubt about it in my mind."

For several months Rochester was employed by the A. U. W. Co. at the pumping station of the company on the Santa Ana river. His complaint alleges that the ladder into the well as maintained by the company was unsafe, the rungs rotten and the danger great. In the course of the work imposed upon him, he went down into the pit on July 29, 1913, and the rungs gave way, and down went Rochester to the bottom of the pit.

At the time, the company heard not a word of the affair. It was many months later, after Rochester was out of the employ of the irrigation company that Attorney W. P. Kelley of Los Angeles filed a complaint here in which Rochester asked for $30,497 damages.

Allegations in Complaint

That complaint alleged that when Rochester fell down the well he suffered a "profound shock to his nervous system," the straining of muscles of his body, permanent injuries to his spine, the breaking of three ribs on his right side, an injury to the larynx, and a partial Pott's fracture of one ankle, to say nothing of minor bruises.

The injuries were worth $30,000, and Rochester declared that from that time until February 2, 1914, he was unable to do a lick of work.

Poor fellow!

This morning was the time set for the trial. Rochester did not appear. Neither did Attorney Kelley. Attorneys E. E. Keech and T. L. McFadden were on hand for the water company. Judge Thomas was ready to dismiss the action, but took testimony on the request of Attorney Keech.

Superintendent R. J. McFadden went on the stand. He produced a time-book of the water company, kept in Rochester's own handwriting, each page signed by Rochester.

Kept on at Work

Turning to the page for July 29, 1913, no mention was found of the terrible accident. The record showed Rochester working the next day. In fact, it showed him working every day right up to October 7, 1913.

McFadden called attention to a report of the death of Tom Scott. Rochester thought it worth while reporting when some other man fell down the well, but not when he fell. The record showed that Tom Scott walked off into space at the edge of the well, and did not quit falling for some distance. McFadden said that

What Bank Advertising Does

(From the Los Angeles Financial News)

"A larger per cent of the people of California have savings accounts than the people of any other state, and, with the exception of Nevada, the average balance on deposit is the largest. Statistics show that but one person in ten in the United States has a savings account while in California four out of every ten of the population are saving bank depositors, to say nothing of those having accounts with National banks.

"Under state supervision more than five hundred banks and trust companies in California with an aggregate capital, surplus and undivided profits of $1,000,000 have deposits of $575,000,000 owned by 1,000,000 people. With the National banks included the banks of California have a capital, surplus and undivided profits of $200,000,000 and deposits of $935,000,000.

"What has been accomplished in the way of saving money in this state is not due to any special endorsement or to the climate of which California is proud, but almost entirely to the aggressiveness of savings banks and trust companies along business-getting and business conserving lines, that is publicity and aggressive advertising methods of bankers."

These statements were made by W. R. Morehouse, assistant cashier of the German American Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles in an address to the Los Angeles Ad Club at their meeting this week. His topic: "What Advertising Has Done For The Banks of California." The address of Mr. Morehouse was not only most interesting but it was filled with facts and figures that were astonishing. Of the population of the state he said there were 1,040,000 persons who have bank accounts in state banks, savings banks and trust companies to say nothing of those having accounts in approximately 375 national banks.

He declared that of the many publicity plans which have originated in California that bank advertising was among the foremost and that it had taken less than ten years for the banks in the state to prove that "Bank Advertising" properly used was one of the really effective agencies for getting business and that it was a common saying among California bankers that "the bank which judiciously advertised for the business invariably gets it." Mr. Morehouse pointed out that bank advertising had its origin in California and that many of the plans originating in this state had been adopted by bankers throughout the United States; that in addition to advertising in the newspapers that other plans which had been tried out were unusually effective. He said that bank advertising was at first a much misunderstood agency and therefore its operation for a number of years was confined to only a few banks but, as it came to be better understood, opposition to its use as a means of publicity had gradually disappeared until today there were but few bankers in the state who did not regard it as one of the necessary elements which enter into successful banking.

He told of the first bank advertisement which appeared in a Los Angeles newspaper soliciting co-operation and support from the public and how quickly the response came and how it resulted, with the publicity campaign which followed, and how in three years a bank with only $38,000 of deposits was enabled to build up its deposits to $3,000,000 until it now ranks second among the banks in Los Angeles having $20,000,000 in deposits and more than 50,000 patrons this bank being the German American Trust and Savings Bank.

In concluding Mr. Morehouse said: "In California the first bank west of the Rocky Mountains was organized in 1850; the three largest banks west of Chicago are in California; more than 500 banks in California operate under laws which are unexcelled; that the most efficient bank service to be found in the world is in California; that the banks in this state are the largest newspaper and magazine advertisers in the United States; that they are the largest users of efficient business-getting plans; all of which has encouraged the people to save to the extent that in California nearly one-half of the population have accounts with state banks, savings banks and trust companies."

Rochester, who was in charge of the plant, went down in the well to help Scott. This, mind you, was on August 5, 1913, a week after the date set as the time for Rochester's permanent and lasting injuries. Rochester got down in the well, raised Scott, who was unconscious, and held him for a long time to keep him from drowning. By superhuman efforts, Rochester got a rope around the limb form, and kept the head above water while he mounted the ladder and attached the rope to a block and tackle. About that time Superintendent McFadden arrived, and he and Rochester finished the job of getting Scott out of the well. Scott was dead.

May Press the Case

"At that time there was nothing the matter with Rochester," said McFadden. McFadden said that Rochester worked for the irrigation company up to October and then went to work in the oil fields.

In his complaint Rochester asked $496 remuneration for loss of time from July 29, 1913, to February 2, 1914, at $90 a month.

"It is a plain case of perjury," said Judge Thomas. "The man swore to falsehoods in bringing the action against the water company. The complaint was sworn to in Los Angeles county, and therefore the perjury charge lies outside the jurisdiction of this court."

Judge Thomas is considering calling the attention of the Los Angeles authorities to the case. McFadden said that the last time he heard of Rochester he was in New Mexico.

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and End Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

SCHOOL TRANSPORTATION

A few years ago it seemed as if the problem of the country district school had been permanently solved, thanks to the idea of concentrating schools in centers, and transporting the children. This idea has spread all over the country. It has at least enabled schools to be better graded. Fewer teachers and less janitor service do the work, and a better grade of teachers can be employed.

As time has gone on the defects of the system become more apparent. Except in California and the more southerly sections of the eastern country, there are many complaints about exposure of children during winter weather. The men hired as drivers are often not dependable or responsible. Mothers dislike to send children under such care, particularly during the freezing or stormy weather in the east.

Under the old-time method of small district schools, the larger part of the children could go home at noon, even through the bad travelling and cold weather of winter. Transportation makes it necessary for the youngsters to carry cold lunches.

When the transportation idea was first tried out, labor was less well paid. A competent man and team could be had for a reasonable price. The cost of running transportation wagons has largely increased. Now it often balances the greater expense of running separate schools.

Sentiment in the farming districts, in the east at least, seems rather rather against the school consolidation and transportation idea. It is claimed that the little red school house within a mile of the farm makes real estate more valuable, supplies a social center, and helps make country life more attractive. It is a problem that every school district must fight out for itself. But there is danger both to the health and morals of children, if the transportation is not carefully regulated.

MOTOR BUS GAINS IN FAVOR

The "jitney" auto-bus business, which developed on the Pacific coast and has swiftly swept eastward, by its name, its rapidity of growth and its "individualism rampant" shows characteristic national traits. Americans visiting Europe long since saw in practical operation similar transportation lines, competing with the underground railways and surface car companies; and in a few eastern cities there have been attempts to introduce the same sort of "bus" competition, but none of them have had conspicuous success. This result has seemed to be chiefly because of failure to maintain for any length of time the low fare first offered and the more flexible routing, pick-up and deposit of passengers which is the main asset of the system.

This "jitney" scheme has had the advantage of a distinctly home origin. At a time when both automobile dealers and owners, in not a few instances, have been keen for more income the "fad" has come to provide the one group with an opportunity to market old model machines and to show the other group a way of earning a living as busmen. From the patron's point of view, the addition of facilities of transportation about towns and cities with much more flexibility of routing and convenience of handling of passengers than any other system provides, is welcome, as paying patronage is showing. But for officials of communities who are responsible for the handling of traffic problems, and for investors in chartered transportation companies with diminishing incomes, the new situation is by no means simple or serene. For city officials or public utility commissioners with power to act in admitting or denying operation of the "jitney" carrier, the difficulty is to frame an ordinance to conserve social or community interests and at the same time not to interfere with operation of private vehicles. For investors in electric railways and for their legal representatives and the courts called upon to deal with litigation already arising from the new competition, there is the ethical problem of franchise rights formerly acquired, and often for a substantial consideration; and how far communities are under obligations to conserve and protect such rights of exclusive control of transportation when competition appears and seeks opportunity to do business.

As to whether the "jitney" motor-bus has come to stay or not, experts in such matters do not seem to agree. They are united, however, in this opinion, namely, that urban handling, of passengers henceforth is to be more varied and flexible in its mechanism, whether by a local transit monopoly or under a revived competitive system.

FACTS ABOUT CALIFORNIA

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

The first private railroad system for Tulare county, and perhaps the first for a fruit grower in Central California, will soon be under construction at the Mineral King orchards east of Visalia, the orchards having been placed for material and equipment for the construction of four miles of line, which will be used in handling fruit shipments and materials over the company's large holdings. The peach crop of this year will be handled over the line which will be electrically operated.

A five months old ostrich which weighed 100 pounds each leg weighing 16 pounds was served to 1500 people at the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria in Los Angeles Christmas. In its preparation 125 pounds of dressing were used. Of this there were 50 pounds of chestnuts, 50 loaves of bread, 30 pounds of butter, 25 pounds of onions, 25 heads of celery and 1 pound of spices. The gigantic bird was roasted in an oven six feet square.

rather than bond for a large sum to cover improvements in public thoroughfares throughout the county. Yuba is now paying by direct taxation for $348,000 worth of highway and bridge work. At the present time, by reason of this fact, the tax rate in Yuba is above normal. The raise in assessments made possible by the improvements will after 1915, give Yuba the lowest rate in the State.

The Producers' Transportation Company has completed the facilities for the additional storage of oil at its tank farm near San Luis Obispo. The big concrete reservoir with a capacity of 750,000 barrels, as well as four steel tanks, each with a capacity of 55,000 barrels, have been finished and give the company a storage capacity of over 4,000,000 barrels. It is estimated that fully 8000 acres of fruit will come into bearing next year in the upper Sacramento valley. In addition to the already large acreage this means that thousands of additional boxes will be required to successfully handle the 1915 crop. In view of this the box factory at Westwood will run at full capacity.

More than 20,000 trees, including pear, peach and walnut varieties were shipped from Live Oak, Sutter county this week by nurserymen. Ten carloads a day is the average amount of barley shipped from Williams, Colusa county, during the past week. Most of it is taken to Port Costa for export trade. While the Federal Government will not permit the destination to be made known it is believed that most of it will go to Europe.

Rice growing is to be attempted on an extensive scale in the Oakdale district this year. Experiments have been made on the Paulsell tract, seven miles from Oakdale, which have demonstrated the possibilities of rice growing, and four or five hundred acres will be planted in the spring.

The record made over the Tehachapi grade last week with a train of sixty-one cars loaded with oranges going East via the Southern Pacific, was broken on Sunday night when a train of seventy loaded cars crossed the mountain barrier going East with oranges.

LINCOLN FURNISHES PRECEDENT Editor Register: When a petition to President Wilson was proposed, that he shall, from the executive office, pronounce the country dry, objection was made that such action by the President would be unconstitutional.

That objection may not be quite as old as the hills, but it isn't very new. When some former critics assailed President Lincoln for violating the constitution he shrewdly replied that "It would do very little good to have the constitution if they had no Nation."

NO BATTLESHIPS NEEDED, SAYS LITTLE NAVY CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—"Not a single battleship should be built by this country this year," declared Senator Jones, of Washington, in discussing the naval appropriation bill. "I will not make any fight to prevent one or two battleships being built for several reasons. The most important is that the Naval Board seems to wish to keep up a certain program and I have no wish to interfere with that. But as to the actual value of battleships, I do not believe that the construction of one, two, three or four battleships this year would add materially to the strength of the power of resistance of the United States."

LIFE OF GOLF CLUB PROFESSIONAL IS ONE OF MANY VARIETIES

The golf professional—he has a pinch.

At every regular golf club there is a professional in charge.

All he has to be is a crack golfer, a wise and patient teacher, an expert mechanic on golf clubs and other equipment, a competent landscape gardener, a skillful architect, an enthusiastic agriculturist, a steward, a good mixer, a satisfactory tournament manager, a firm foreman of a gang of day laborers and a delightful companion of earnest, raving millionaires.

In addition, he must be a glutton for punishment in the alibi ring. He must exchange more sympathy for more alibi than any man in the world.

When he is through with his day's work all he has to do is to make a caddy chase a thousand balls that he has back of the clubhouse practicing on his masher shot.

If there is one thing more than another that the professional golfer never gets a chance to do, it is to play a round of golf. He must acquire perfection in the sport to gain his position and then lose all chance to use it.

Professionals are usually prone to suffer from nervous strain. They say it is not the strain of golfing, however, but the teaching that drags them down. Golf is a serious game to those competent in it. When a professional is forced to teach a giggling woman how to drive and put, it moves him a notch nearer the booby hatch. Playing the game requires a great amount of practice, but teaching it requires a thousand times more.

Every professional has his shop at the golf course, where he makes new clubs and repairs old ones. He usually has men working in it for him, but he superintends their work. Each golfer has his own models, which, of course, have no equal.

It is up to the professional to see that his course is laid out right in the first place and to see that it is kept right once it is laid out. He has to keep a gang of men at work on it all the time.

In addition to all this the professional should, if he aspires to be a regular fellow, acquire a fine Scotch brogue. Then there is no doubt about his right to be in the game.

Little 'Valentine' Entertains Playmates at Happy Birthday Celebration

Little Miss Mary Michaels came as a Valentine to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Michaels seven years ago, and in honor of this happy event, a lovely birthday party was given Saturday at her home, 120 South Birch street.

Festoons of scarlet hearts and glowing poinsettias prettily decorated the Michaels home and the little folks spent the hours joyously, with merry indoor and outdoor games.

Late in the afternoon the mother of the small honoree invited the children into the dining room, where a canopy of red hearts was artistically arranged over the table, each place being marked with a pretty red basket filled to the brim with a variety of delicious candies. A centerpiece of vivid poinsettias was used and the lovely white frosted birthday cake bore seven red candles.

The little hostess was showered with pretty gifts, including numerous Valentines, and among the playmates who joined in this happy celebration were Mary, Helen and Frances Batty, Barbara and Sanford Babson, Jewell Fletcher, Mary and Lou Pomeroy, Keith and Edwin Beisel, Elbert Evans and Lawrence Rossiter.

THE UNWILLING BRIDE

The world is a bride this morning!
A fair young bride—today
She weds with the ring of the winter king;
And oh, he is old
And cold
And gray!

They have decked her forth for the bridal feast
In raiment of virgin white—
They have draped her in drifting
cloudy swirls
That fall in a mist of gossamer whirls
And wrap her in garments bright.

Her robe is bordered with flimsy lace
Than the finest of cobweb mesh.
With brocaded patterns of jewels that trace
From her vales and cheeks to her mountain peaks
Where the trumpeter wind blows fresh.

But her voice is timid and tiny and weak
As the tinkling of ice-bound streams,
And she shrinks in spite of her brave array;
Like a frightened fawn she stands at bay.

From the bridegroom's chilly
kisses on her cheek
For she knows that under the diamond dust
Of snow on her warm young breast,
Her heart keeps tune to the rune of June.

Where he rides, a youth, in flowers dressed,
Over the hills in the far, far West.

With the light in his eyes of summer skies
And the feet of life in his shoon.

SECOND TRAVEL SECTION

Members Are Delightfully Entertained by 'Visitors' From Foreign Lands

Travel Section Number Two of the Ebbl Club held an unusually delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. J. R. Medlock yesterday afternoon, Mrs. C. E. French presiding.

The surprise program, prepared by the entertainment committee, was greatly enjoyed, the opening number being given by Mrs. C. W. Burns attired in Chinese costume. Mrs. Burns made her subject, "Missionary Work in China," very interesting. Mrs. J. E. Gowen, costumed as an Irish lassie, was charming indeed, and her Irish selections added greatly to the entertaining program.

"Minnehaha," in everyday life, was Mrs. J. E. Liebigh, who gave a beautiful Navajo myth. Mrs. C. F. Crose represented Mary Todd Lincoln and told the interesting story of Abraham Lincoln's early life as a lawyer.

Mrs. David Scarborough was dainty in a French costume and she contributed to the excellent program by reading "Our Guide in Genoa" by Mark Twain. Mrs. W. D. Baker did full justice to the Holland maids.

Miss Mary Tabbot was Priscilla, unrivaled, and Mrs. S. H. Finley took the honors as a pretty Hawaiian maid, with mandolin, while Mrs. E. B. Burns most regally represented a Spanish princess.

Robed in a beautiful silk kimono of rosy hue, Mrs. J. F. Richards made a lovely Japanese maiden and many of the merry company wore Martha Washington kerchiefs and caps, each lady giving a short sketch, suggested by her costume.

As welcome guests of the Travelers at this meeting were Mesdames E. M. Neally, P. C. Wedell, W. A. Zimmerman, M. Elsey, A. Williamson and Miss Grace Burnham. Appropriately closing the delightful afternoon, Mrs. Medlock, assisted by Mrs. C. A. Gustlin, served "Neapolitan" ice cream, "Metropolitan" cake and "Cosmopolitan" candy.

Receives Generous Donation
The members of the Delhi Sunday school were pleasantly surprised and deeply gratified last Sunday when J. B. Lockett, the superintendent, announced the gift of a check for $25 from G. P. Hill and his mother of Santa Ana. The check is to be applied to the fund for building a church in Delhi.

The Sunday school has now been in existence over a year and a half and though the attendance is not large, there is fair promise of a considerable increase in numbers and a larger and more convenient building will be required.

The Sunday school has, so far, been self-supporting and has also, out of its small weekly subscriptions, contributed to save $30. To this sum which has now been placed in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Santa Ana, the much-appreciated $25 check will at once be added, making a total of $55 towards the church building fund. Other donations have been promised, so the outlook for a church in Delhi in the near future is fairly bright. The entire school joins in earnest thanks to Mr. G. P. Hill and Mrs. S. Hill.

INTERESTING EXHIBITION

Another Charming Gown From Trousseau of Bride of Ye Long Ago

The interesting exhibition that has been going on in the window of the Persian Dye Works for several weeks past has certainly lost none of its attractiveness this week.

There is now being shown a gown of fine soft silk that has never been altered since it was made in 1846. It is a green and black plaid, trimmed with ribbon that exactly matches. With this dress are shown the sheer hand-embroidered "under-sleeves" that were always worn with it, and a cobwebby hand-made fishu that dates back to 1800.

In the window also are my lady's work-box, of polished mahogany—which took the place in those days of the baskets and bags of today—and a very interesting card-case and engagement-book. This was made in Paris, and the printed calendar, etc., in it is in French. The calendar is for the year 1835. The covers are of heavy enamel, exquisitely inlaid with mother-of-pearl, and are locked together by means of a gold pencil.

Birthday Surprise
When Miss Martha Williams returned to her home Friday, after spending a brief vacation at Mesto, Miss Connie Woodside, that young lady accompanying her home, she found the house in a blaze of light, beautifully decorated with valentines, cunning little kewpies and flowers and a company of merry friends awaiting her arrival. To say that the honored young lady was surprised in the moment mildly, but she soon recovered and proceeded forthwith to enjoy the celebration of her eighteenth birthday for which the affair had been planned.

During the evening, Miss Woodside rendered a number of beautiful piano numbers, a trio composed of Messrs. Ed Putnam, Jim Thompson and Ervin Clem, pleased with vocal selections, and a quartet of ladies, Mrs. Bessie McCordia, Misses Anna Jacobs, Hazel Shields and Kate Staats contributed to the enjoyment of the company with their songs.

Late in the evening Valentine refreshments were served, Misses Anna Jacobs, Kate and Josephine Staats, Mrs. R. A. Parker and Mrs. Staats assisting in serving.

Miss Williams was presented with a number of pretty gifts, and the celebration of one of the most important epochs in her life will long remain a pleasant memory.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Williams, Mrs. Staats, Mrs. Bessie McCordia, Misses Connie Woodside, Anna Jacobs, Kate and Josephine Staats, Hazel Shields, Lucy Williams, Laura Burton, Messrs. Fred Young, Ed Putnam, Ervin Clem, Tom Staats, Jim Thompson and Moberly.

Enjoyable Musicales
A complimentary musicale was given Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Gustlin at their home, for the piano and vocal pupils of Mr. Gustlin and also for the violin students of the Conservatory, about a hundred and seventy-five invitations being issued.

Decorations of violets, hyacinths and ferns added charm to the lovely home. The program was presented by Mr. Gustlin and Miss Lalla Fagge, assisted by Mrs. W. R. Coleman, Mrs. T. C. Frolinger and Mr. Earl Fraser.

Mr. Gustlin related an interesting reminiscence of his having played the Liszt "Benediction" at the Weimar house of the great master, who considered this to be his greatest work for the piano.

The concert waltz of Rubenstein also proved the most interesting of some facts concerning the composer's first presentation of it before some artists and pupils, among whom were Alberto Jorjas, the great pianist, with whom Mr. Gustlin studied while abroad.

The solo of Mrs. Coleman, "Dessert Song" by Gertrude Ross, and the lullaby sweetly sung by Mrs. Frolinger pleased greatly.

Miss Fagge was at her best in her part of the program, and her music is always enjoyed. Mr. Fraser played her accompaniment.

An enjoyable feature was the first hearing of a new song composed by Mr. Gustlin, admirably sung by Mr. Fraser. The poem, "Morning, Noon and Night," was written by Mrs. Vora Heathman Cole, a cousin of Mrs. Gustlin, and well known in Santa Ana.

Tea was served after the program and a social hour enjoyed.

The program follows:
Gavotte..... Gluck Brahms
Matinata..... Tosti
Concerto in E Minor..... Mendelssohn
I Love Thee..... Grieg
Ecstasy..... Beach
Mrs. Coleman
"Benediction of God in the Solitude"..... Liszt
Mr. Gustlin

The rooms were made lovely with red and white flowers. Progressive Hearts was played during the afternoon. Esther Johnson and Dorothy Mead being the fortunate ones, in winning the pretty prizes. A most pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by those present.

Later Miss Obarr divulged the fact that the day was her birthday. The announcement was greeted with exclamations, and many threats because Miss Obarr had not told them earlier.

ST. VALENTINE HONORED

Miss Grace Roberts Entertains Classmates at Pretty Evening Party

The Philathea class of the First Baptist church, of which Mrs. E. D. Holmes is the popular teacher, was entertained by Miss Grace Roberts, at a delightful Valentine party given at the home of Miss Roberts' sister, Mrs. N. Beisel, of 202 South Birch street.

The rooms were artistically decorated with graceful sprays of pepper berries, fragrant red roses and scarlet hearts, and after the regular monthly business had been transacted, the remaining hours were whiled away with a merry game, in which hearts were honored.

Miss Roberts and Mrs. Beisel had cleverly fashioned a shower of pretty Valentines and placed them in the opening of the graphophone, attached by loops of red ribbon and each guest drew forth a charming trophy of this enjoyable entertainment.

Delicious refreshments, served at small tables, closed this pleasant social affair.

Messrs. Wiley Harris and N. Beisel were honored guests of the class and among the members present were Mrs. E. D. Holmes, Mrs. C. O. Gerlishe, Mrs. L. R. Stevens, Mrs. J. Wiley Harris, Mrs. N. Miss Taylor Entertains
Miss Thelma Taylor entertained a number of guests at her home Saturday evening. In the decorations the Valentine season was prettily suggested; red hearts, red carnations and lacy ferns being used in the development of the color motif of red and white.

Music and conversation occupied the earlier part of the evening, while later Progressive Hearts was enjoyed.

After the awarding of the pretty prizes delicious refreshments were served, the color motif again being evident.

At a late hour the guests reluctantly departed after enjoying a most delightful evening. The following were those present: Elizabeth Givens, Helen Remsburg, Claire McPhee, Laura Taylor, Catherine Clarkson, Ramona Clevenger, Esther Johnson, Melvin Kittle, Welcome Ward, George Oertley, Wells Innes, Ross McPhee, Frank Biggs, George Paul, Alfred Catland.

Entertained Ministers
Fifty ministers of the Los Angeles Presbytery passed through Santa Ana yesterday on their way to Laguna Beach for a three days' conference.

The ministers made the trip by automobile and stopped in this city at noon time for luncheon at the First Presbyterian Church.

The ladies of this church had the luncheon in charge and as they have an enviable record for being excellent cooks, the menu was heartily enjoyed by the hungry travelers. The long dining tables were prettily decorated with golden mounds of luscious oranges and brown baskets filled with yellow daffodils.

Among the noted visitors was Dr. John Balcom Shaw, so well known in this city.

Tuskegee Minstrels Give Fine Program
The United Presbyterian Church was packed to its limit last night, every seat in the house being taken, many people standing during the entire entertainment, all of which goes to show that Santa Ana people know how to appreciate good music.

Tuskegee College for years has been making a collection of all colored folk songs, many of which are contributed by new students and worked over in the musical department for permanent additions.

The colored quintette gave a variety of these religious, comical and plaintive melodies last night and they were forced by their enthusiastic audience to respond to many encores.

Professor Woods, who travels with these "minstrels," also proved to be an excellent reader and impersonator, and the entire program merited high praise.

Sixty-six dollars was contributed in the free will offering, which will be sent at once to Booker T. Washington at Tuskegee, no charge having been made for the use of the church.

A LETTER IN RHYME

A lady formerly from the Hoosier state received a letter from an old friend, as follows:

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 18, 1915.
Dear Friend:

Don't think unkindly of me,
Check those thoughts that flow so free.

Altho you never hear from me,
Know I've not forgotten thee.

In this cold and dull old climate,
With "Mother Earth" so stiff and drear.

For hours I sit and ponder, ponder,
And oftentimes drop a weary tear.

In my dreams I often see you,
Hear you laughing, as of old.

New-found friends are oft like silver,
But the old tried friends, like gold.

I am sitting by the window;
The snow glides softly down;

Soon there'll be a great white sheet
Cover this drear old town.

The out-door sports are closed,
The streams are frozen o'er.

Every shutter and window down,
You never see an open door.

The trees look bare and cold,
The wind doth howl and shriek.

But across the laden sky,
There's a golden sunset streak.

It seems absurd to think of flowers,
Or trees full of green leaves.

While looking across to next-door neighbor,
I see icicles hanging from eaves.

I thank thee now for thy remembrance,
'Twas sweet to know you thought of me.

Altho I do not often write,
Many a thought I spare for thee.

Now 'tis night, and darkness covers all,
Not a star beams forth to shed its light.

Too many miles apart we be,
I wish you and yours a sweet good night.

Yours old friend,
MRS. GEORGINA SWAIN.

SELLS $100,000 OF HIGHWAY BONDS

Interest for Year a Little More Than Balance Loss by
Price Offered

OSO CREEK BRIDGING GOES TO TUSTIN MAN

Further Consideration of Disposal of Surplus is Put
Over to March 3

Today the Board of Supervisors sold $100,000 of the state highway bonds bought by the county a year ago. The sale was made to Perrin, Drake & Riley on a bid of $96,414.

The board offered for sale the entire block of $200,000, bought by the county in order to insure the building of the state highway through Orange county. Perrin, Drake & Riley put in a bid for the $200,000 bonds, and also one for $100,000 or any portion of the $200,000.

Bids received were: William R. Compton Company, $191,180; William

R. Staats Company, $191,357; Byrne & McDonnell, $191,570; Perrin, Drake & Riley, $96,414 for $100,000 and $191,528 for $200,000; N. W. Halsey & Company, $190,820.

The reason the county bought the bonds was that the state was unable to dispose of them. At that time four per cent bonds could not be sold on the market, and the State Highway Commission did not have money enough to go ahead with the work. Several of the counties through their supervisors bought blocks to furnish money for state work. At the time it was thought likely that this county would lose money by the venture, but it was thought better to put up the money and buy the bonds than it was not to do so and have to wait an indefinite period before the state highway south of Santa Ana should be built.

However, the purchase, so far as it concerns the $100,000 sold today, has been but little loss. Had the $100,000 been kept here, the county would have had no profit from it. As it is, the county received interest for ten months, and sold the bonds at $586 less than they cost. The exact loss is $666. The banks bought another $200,000, and handled it at a loss of $4000.

Bridge Contract
Today bids were received for building a bridge across Oso creek south of El Toro, on the state highway. The contract went to W. J. German of Tustin at $965. Other bids were: E. J. Denman, $1059; J. S. Fluor, $1335; Mercereau Bridge and Construction Company, $1435; Holland Construction Company, $1350; C. McNeill, $1232.

Over to March 3
This morning a conference was held by the supervisors concerning the disposal of the $240,000 good roads surplus. No conclusions were reached, and further consideration was postponed to March 3. The district attorney was requested to give the board an opinion upon various legal questions that have arisen concerning the matter.

IN THE JUSTICE COURTS

Defense Takes a Hard Hit at Lomita Gun Club's Boundary Fences

A newspaper photographer is proving a blessing today to Phil Snyder of Los Angeles. Snyder was arrested for trespassing on the ponds of the Lomita Gun Club on Jan. 1. The newspaper photographer was out in the tidelands that day getting some pink sheet pictures for a Los Angeles daily, and by the greatest of good luck for Snyder he took a picture of a water channel that shows the Lomita fences almost under water. Some posts may be entirely under water, but they do not show in the photo. Some stick up about a foot.

When Snyder came along, his boat went across the boundary line. There was nothing to stop it. He did not know when he got to sacred territory. He found out, however, that he was nabbed him. Snyder was arrested, and his trial was set by Justice Cox for today. Deputy District Attorney Koepfel is prosecuting and Attorney Rutan is defending.

Ralph W. Watson, A. A. Christenson and Henry Waller were the witnesses for the prosecution. They declared that the Lomita property is properly fenced and posted.

Then came the defense with Ed. L. Wheeler, the newspaper fellow. He showed the picture he had taken. It was passed around among the jurors. Those on the jury are G. F. Havens, W. D. Barker, J. L. Eliesman, W. R. Hilyard, A. F. Marsile, William McGreavey, E. E. Hardy, Guy Cunningham, P. E. Newman, J. C. Davis, Frank Loesher, and R. Best. A verdict has not yet been reached.

HOARDING SECONDS IN AUTO FACTORIES

Splitting seconds on the time required for automobile production is a development of scientific manufacturing which, in some of the big Detroit plants, has been brought to so systematic an application as to affect radically the selling price of the product, through the saving of labor involved in the various processes.

The man with the stop watch roams about through the plants of the Studebaker Corporation. Unobtrusively he times to the fraction of a second, the various operations. Those which, to his mind, imply the waste of a single moment, become the subject of thought, deliberation and conference. Changes in methods are determined on. These changes may imply new equipment. They may even demand the designing of an entirely new machine tool, but this is unhesitatingly done, if the expense will save time, for seconds become minutes and grow into weeks, in the process of a year's continual operation.

One of the Studebaker men stood for more than an hour not long ago, watching a highly specialized machine mill to mathematical smoothness the face of an aluminum casting. The efficiency man went away to report. That day the order went out for a duplicate of this milling machine. In a few days it was set up alongside the machine in use. The tool had become a twin.

With one day's practice, the workman in charge learned to load one of these machines, while the other was at work. The tool and the man were constantly busy. Production time was cut in half.

WINTER DOUBLES WORK
—In summer the work of eliminating poisons and acids from the blood is helped by perspiration. In cold weather, with little outdoor work or exercise to cause sweating, the kidneys have to do double work. Foley Kidney Pills help overworked, weak and diseased kidneys to filter and cast out of the blood the waste matter that causes pains in sides or back, rheumatism, lumbago, stiffness of joints, sore muscles and other ills resulting from improper elimination. Sold by all druggists.—Advertisement.

TO SHOW MOVIES AT LOCAL MOOSE LODGE

Motion pictures, taken to controvert rumors in Southern California that the home for the aged and orphaned, founded at Moosehead, Illinois, by the Moose lodge, did not exist in actuality and that funds solicited for its building were obtained under false pretenses, will be shown at Moose hall, this city, Friday evening, free of charge. The pictures, which consist of about 3000 feet of film, were taken at Moosehead by Rev. Benjamin Fay Mills, at the request of Mayor Rose of Los Angeles, himself a Moose and a loyal supporter of the lodge.

MONSTER STARFISH CAUGHT AT NEWPORT

Thirty-two inches across is what a beautiful specimen of starfish measured yesterday evening when hauled on to the Newport pier by Sam Clapp of Newport. The fish was being exhibited today in the windows of the Hill & Walker sporting goods store in the Spurgeon building.

The starfish was caught with a hook, the specimen swallowing hook and bait. It is claimed that this specimen is the largest ever known on the Orange county coast.

WOULD ANNUL THE MARRIAGE

Action Follows Discovery That the Husband Already Had
One Wife Living

Declaring that Lewis C. Bonnon had a wife living and undivorced when he married Margaret Davis in Santa Ana on March 14, 1914, the mother of the girl has brought an action for the annulment of the marriage. Mrs. Annie Davis is the plaintiff. Her complaint, filed by Attorney Wallace W. Davis, states that Bonnon is supposed to be in Ontonagon, Mich.

The couple were married by Justice Fullerton of Orange on a license issued here. Mrs. Davis, the mother, was present at the wedding, and gave her sworn consent to the issuance of the license by Miss Myrtle Meyer, deputy county clerk. Bonnon stated that he had never been married. Bonnon's age was given as 22 and the girl's as 16. They and Mrs. Davis all said they lived in Los Angeles. Bonnon gave his occupation as painter.

For Partition
Five of the heirs of Jacob Mander-scheid have brought an action against two minor heirs for the partition of the estate, which consists of a large ranch southwest of Santa Ana. Williams & Rutan represent the plaintiffs.
Claim of $2,000.

Mrs. Lucinda M. Hamilton of 1323 East Third street has applied for letters of administration upon the estate of Harold H. Hamilton, her son, who died as the result of injuries received when he fell out of a mail car near Oceanside on January 11. The son was a railway mail clerk, and his estate consists of a claim against the United States for $2,000, which amount is generally paid by the postal service to those dependent upon any person killed while on duty. Harold Hamilton was unmarried. His father, John R., is 80 years old. Stanley & Langley are attorneys for the petitioner.

Two Are In Jail
Through the sheriff's office two of the three men charged with contributing to the delinquency of three minor girls from Anaheim are now in jail. Harvey Price was arrested at Orange yesterday, and Ralph Stocking at Long Beach. Stocking was brought here last night by Deputy Sheriff Iman and Fowler. John Wickersheim, the third man of the trio wanted on a warrant issued by Judge Thomas of the Juvenile Court, is reported to have left the state.

Are Arraigned
This afternoon Judge Thomas arraigned Ralph Stocking and Harvey Price, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors. Answers to arraignments were set for 9 o'clock, Feb. 19. Clyde Bishop appeared as attorney for Stocking. Price was without an attorney. Each defendant's bail was fixed at $1000.

CROWN PRINCESS CECELIE TELLS HOW NOBLY WOMEN OF GERMANY SACRIFICE SELF

BY KARL H. VON WIEGAND
 [United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.—(By courier to New York, Feb. 16.)—After all, it is not the women and children who are the real sufferers from the war. Theirs is the suspense; theirs the dread casualty list; theirs the alternating hope, fear and despair that a father or husband or a brother may be among the missing. The future, to them, may hold gloom and poverty. Theirs never can be the glory.

It was the Crown Princess Cecelie, the future empress of Germany, who was talking. In the Cecelie house, the beautiful $400,000 building of the Fatherland's Women's Association at Charlottenburg, I met her. She was occupied, as she has been every day since the war began, acting as an angel of mercy, comforting the wounded and aiding their women and children.

"Europe is one vast hospital," she continued. "Isn't it a pity—such a pity! How happy your American women should be—happy mothers, happy wives, happy sisters. They have none of the heartaches and miseries of war. They have none of the suspense that is ours. Yet, to them also is denied the lesson of self-sacrifice, of unselfish, loving ministrations to the wounded, whether our own or the enemy's, of doing something for the Fatherland. Our German women have arisen nobly."

In Cecelie house are centralized ten departments of sociological work, including the feeding of a number of poor children, the furnishing of pure milk for the children of the poor, the giving of practical courses in house-keeping to women and children, conducting kitchens where the poor may get food at nominal prices, depots for visiting nurses, and the like. The crown princess has centralized her activities here. She especially takes interest in the hospital wards.

She was simply dressed. The future empress is tall, graceful of movement and of the type best described as "chic" and "dressed." There is neither pose, stiffness nor condescension in her manner. Her big brown eyes dance and she shows great animation and vivacity. She is a brunette, rather of the "international type" than of the German. Her mother was a Russian grand duchess and she is a relative of the Czar. She speaks German, French, English and Russian. When I was presented to her by Captain Jachman, she said:

"I understand you were with my husband at S—, and that you were able to enter the trenches. It must be interesting."

The princess passed into a large festival hall and lecture room which has now been transferred into a hospital. The first cot she stopped at was occupied by a soldier whose shoulder had been shattered by shrapnel.

As she drew from the wounded man the story of his ordeal, he glanced with pride at the iron cross pinned on the chart above his cot. The princess inquired about his family and, learning that he had a wife and three children, gave him a bouquet of flowers and a picture of herself and her children. A majority of the soldiers in this ward were serious cases.

The princess, accompanied by Frau Excellenz von Alvensleben, and followed by an attendant carrying a basket of flowers, passed on from cot to cot. Beside newcomers she would sit and chat. Her easy manner bespoke compassion and her eyes beamed unaffected sympathy.

When she had completed her visitations, she said:

"Our women are playing a big and complete role. They have voluntarily mobilized for the Fatherland as unselfishly and as heroically as the men are playing their part. The men fight; the women minister and work with the Red Cross. They console and help the widows, care for the wounded and work in the gardens and fields—anywhere a pair of hands is needed."

"Even the women in the kitchen are playing an important role which is proving a big factor in the war. With the talk of attempts to starve us out, who can say that the hausfrau in the kitchen may contribute to Germany's success by new, rigid, systematic economy of food; by planting, raising, canning, preserving quantities of vegetables and fruits?"

"German women are heroically giving their all—father, husband, brother—their own work, strength and services—all for the fatherland. But in the privacy of their own rooms they sometimes weep."

"In your opinion, your highness, are the German women favorable to the war?"

"I do not believe any true German mother or wife was for the war, or can be. Yet there comes a time when war is unavoidable—when an unwelcome war is forced upon a nation. German women, mothers of sons who are or who have been soldiers, knew and realized as perhaps the women of no other country, with the possible exception of France, what war really meant to them before it came. That they gave freely of their sons to the fatherland when it was in danger has been shown and is being shown daily."

As I touched upon the attempts being made to engender hatred between the people of the warring nations, the princess remarked:

"Isn't love of fatherland a great enough motive for fighting, and dying if needs be, of working and ministering for the fatherland? Why add hatred? Love of country doesn't need hate to stimulate patriotism or to create a spirit of self-sacrifice."

The princess praised the generosity and kindness of the United States to the women and children of all the warring nations, and especially expressed appreciation over the Christmas gifts sent to Germany.

"I hope it will never be," she said, "but I am certain that if your country should be plunged into war, American women, whom I found so vivacious, charming and beautiful, will prove as noble, self-sacrificing and heroic as have the German women."

She declared that none of her babies have seen their father since the war began.

"The children miss him," she said, "but he hasn't been back in Berlin since the war began. He believes his place is with his army."

TO SHOW MOVIES AT LOCAL MOOSE LODGE

Motion pictures, taken to controvert rumors in Southern California that the home for the aged and orphaned, founded at Mooseheart, Illinois, by the Moose lodge, did not exist in actuality and that funds solicited for its building were obtained under false pretenses, will be shown at Moose hall, this city, Friday evening, free of charge. The pictures, which consist of about 3000 feet of film, were taken at Mooseheart by Rev. Benjamin Fay Mills, at the request of Mayor Rose of Los Angeles, himself a Moose and a loyal supporter of the lodge.

MONSTER STARFISH CAUGHT AT NEWPORT

Thirty-two inches across is what a beautiful specimen of starfish measured yesterday evening when hauled on to the Newport pier by Sam Clapp of Newport. The fish was being exhibited today in the windows of the Hill & Walker sporting goods store in the Spurgeon building.

The starfish was caught with a hook, the specimen swallowing hook and bait. It is claimed that this specimen is the largest ever known on the Orange county coast.

A LIVE SPORT LETTER By Hal Sheridan

NEW YORK.—Already the worm is beginning to turn. The halcyon days when a ball player bought two or three automobiles, put on parties for that one in the third row back and showed up at the park the next day ready to fight his grandmother, are just about gone. To the popular tune of Jim Gilmore's funeral dirge they will be borne out by saddened ball players.

They were dying in the big league two years ago. Then came the Feds and with the siren clink of many dollars lured the slaving toilers from their first loves, promising much gold. The players got the gold and the headaches.

But, as hereinbefore chronicled, the ancient worm has done the Vernon Castle. The announcement comes from no less a personage than James A. Gilmore himself, who, when he isn't calling Ban Johnson names, presides the Federal League. List to Jeems:

"On account of the many other things that had to be attended to last season we had little time to look after the playing end (Kansas City and St. Louis players please copy) of the game and enforce discipline. But we know some of our players failed to display the same activities they did while members of organized ball and also do we know that some of them didn't keep in such condition as to give their best services to the club.

"The Federal League has been a great benefit to the ball players, and I hope they will realize it. We have given them a chance to draw bigger salaries than ever before. And, whenever we have been the cause of their getting better treatment from Organized Ball.

"I don't say any of our players 'laid down' in their playing, but they lacked the aggressiveness they showed with Organized Ball, and we hope to remedy this next season.

"We are going to have discipline!" And this from a man who but a few months ago proclaimed to the wide, wide world that a ball player was a slave and subjected to unjust persecutions on the part of his employers and that in the Federal League the poor ball player would find a haven of rest and free content!

Canal Opening Postponed

Formal opening of the Panama Canal has been postponed the President and Cabinet having so decided. The reason for this action is:

- 1—The uncertainty as to the conditions of the canal, on account of the difficulty experienced in controlling the slides.
- 2—The situation in Europe, which has caused the administration so much concern.
- 3—The delay on the part of Congress in appropriating the $250,000 asked for by the administration to be used mostly for the entertainment of Representatives of South American countries and the official guests from Washington.

This action, however, will not interfere with the President's trip to the Pacific Coast. He will go by rail to fill his engagements at the San Francisco and San Diego Expositions, and at other cities on the Coast, which he has promised to visit.

Studebaker Earnings Big

Both gross and net earnings of Studebaker's during the fiscal 12 months to December 31 last established new high records. Net profits were equal to better than 10 per cent on the $27,931,000 common after taking out the 7 per cent dividend on the $13,000,000 preferred. The first six months were productive of much larger profits than the second six. In fact, during this period net earnings amounted to $3,027,000 against $796,000 in the same period of the 1913 year.

However, if the second half of the year did no better than 1913, this would mean a net of slightly more than $2,000,000 making $5,000,000, or a trifle better for the 12 months a sum equal to 13 per cent on the common.

Regarding Rural Credits

The Board of Governors of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association in session in Chicago discussed the Rural Credit bills pending in Congress. H. M. Hanson, secretary of the association, said the proposed legislation, which aims to fix a uniform rate of interest on farm mortgages in all States, would make necessary changes in the mortgage banking business. He declared that the bankers were not opposed to the legislation, and pointed out that investors, borrowers and bankers were three distinct groups whose interests should be considered in the enactment of new legislation.

Fourteen persons were interested in the land and their signatures were appended to the document.

Contest Blue-Sky Law

As soon as Governor Johnson appoints a commissioner of corporations under the blue sky law adopted by referendum of the voters of California investment companies doing interstate business will attack the constitutionality of the law. Former United States Attorney John L. McNab will bring the action and will also endeavor to obtain an injunction restraining the operations of the law until the arguments had been made on the merits of the case. Mr. McNab said regarding the law: "It is a well meant effort to destroy a few crooked investment companies and swindling promotion concerns by wiping out the legitimate business of the State. Under it, the mere whim or prejudice of one man, uncontrolled by the authority of the courts, may destroy the rights of the soundest company in the State to sell its stock or dispose of its securities."

Vanderbilt in California

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, head of the Vanderbilt family, made his first visit to California this week, called to Santa Barbara by the illness of his life-long friend, Frederick Martin Davies, who was stricken with pneumonia.

Mr. Vanderbilt, who was in Los Angeles only an hour, in a brief interview said:

"I left New York in a very great hurry. I was eager to reach my friend, Mr. Davies, and spend the Christmas holidays with him. I am very glad to hear that he is improved. I do not expect to be in such a big hurry going back. I plan to make a visit in Los Angeles on the way home. This is my first time in Southern California. Things look interesting here and I want time to enjoy it."

"Business conditions in New York have assumed a brighter outlook than have prevailed for some time past. Prosperity is returning. While I am not fully familiar with business conditions on the Pacific coast, still I look for a substantial increase for a general betterment throughout the country. With two large expositions California should have a big year in 1915."

Grape Growers Plan Legislation

California Grape Protective Association is planning some drastic legislation in so far as the control of the liquor business of the State is concerned. A conference was held last week in Fresno of grape growers and wine producers. Plans were discussed and while definite action was not taken the legislative committee through its chairman declared that a bill for the suppression of temperance and the regulation of the liquor traffic, to be known as the Liquor Code of California, should be prepared, which would create an excise commission to handle the liquor question. A decisive legislation program will be decided upon when the officers and directors of the association again meet in Fresno on January 16.

Bombs on Ships of Allies

Conscious of the fact that his act would cause the slaughter of many innocent persons a bomb maker in New Orleans has confessed a plot to dynamite English and French vessels leaving ports in the United States with supplies for the Allies. His confession resulted in the arrest of nine others who were engaged with him in the plot. Internal machines were found in his room. These machines were timed to explode, he said, in six and a half days. He placed one on the French liner Rochembau sailing from New York on December 13.

Banker Gives a Banquet

The new home of the Citizens Savings Bank in Pasadena is near completion and will be formally opened in about two weeks. The building, a seven-story structure, has everything modern in the way of an office building. In compliment to the contractor, architects and foremen on the library a dinner was given them at the Hotel Maryland by President Hubbard and the Board of Directors. Forty guests were present.

Northwest Grain Market Booms

The highest primary wheat market in the world just now is Portland, Oregon, and this week all grades of the cereal on the Portland Wheat Exchange recorded the highest prices in the history of the Exchange. Heavy demand abroad due to the war is responsible for the advance. February blue-stem was bid at $1.28 per bushel.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Bring Back Its Gloss, Lustre, Charm and Get Rid of Dandruff

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few minutes—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Advertisement.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The conditions in the vegetable market yesterday morning were considerably unfavorable to the consumer with an appetite for some of the delicacies of the garden. Bell peppers advanced 5 cents to a 30-cent market; chile peppers moved up to 20 cents; string beans, both green and wax, were put down as priceless, there being no receipts of this kind, and few expected during the next two months. The local celery and tomato crop was reported entirely cleaned up, and the only stock available was from the North. Bunch goods were unchanged in value, and the supply adequate to make up for the shortage in other lines. Water cress, spinach, lettuce and several other similar products were in particularly good call. Cucumbers are more scarce, and have reached the maximum range, selling up to $3 a dozen.

Egg arrivals were heavy enough to cause considerable comment, 1304 cases having been received. Instead of this causing a decline in quotations, the market went up 1/2 cent. In San Francisco the market was steady at 24. Butter sold at 27 here, against the 29-cent market on creamery extra in the North.

Facts are Facts

because of anything or conditions that "actually" exist. The statements we've been making from time to time regarding conditions in the Tempe-Paso Robles district—(climate, fertility of soil, advantageous location as to market and social conditions, rainfall and wide range of products), have been statements of facts, sometimes disputed by parties who have no knowledge of the facts, or have only made an indifferent investigation, but facts nevertheless.

Our statements of the probable future of the district have, of course, been predictions based upon those facts and our observations of what has taken place in many other meritorious sections of California. Every forecast made by us as to the future of the locality is being more than justified by the happenings of the past two years, at a time too, when development in many localities has been at a standstill or slipping back. Most of the development now being done there, with the exception of an eight million dollar project, is by men from Orange county and other parts of Southern California, mostly men of the hard-headed "show-me" type who know fruit and nut growing and California conditions.

we know we are right and will be glad to tell you about this wonderful country and talk land to you—large or small parcels, improved or unimproved, fruit, nut, general farming, or stock ranches.

COUNTY EXHIBITS GREAT FEATURE OF BIG FAIR

When the first announcement was made in the state of California that the officials of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition were dedicating individual days to the various counties of the state as a recognition of the wonderful aid the counties had given the exposition the thoughts of every one centered on about the same details.

The $6,000,000 bond issue, the $2,000,000 California building and the marvelous displays were uppermost in the minds of the greater number and although the 58 counties have done these things they have also taken the lead in the beautiful Palace of Horticulture and will make the world envious of the 10,000 square feet of space the counties have prepared in this spectacular structure.

The California counties have nearly one-fourth of the total floor area of this great palace and in the very center of the acres. The facades surrounding California's exhibit space are of the French Renaissance, in keeping with the ornamentation of the palace itself. They are finished in green lattice work, covered with luxuriant vines and banked on all sides with great quantities of cut flowers.

At intervals, around the 500 feet comprising the four sides of the booth are large specimens of growing orange, lemon, pomelo, olive and other trees loaded with ripe fruit and making an orchard under roof.

In the center of the exhibit space is an area 35 feet square, built two stories high. The upper floor is devoted to a rest room and lounge place luxuriously fitted up. Below the rest room is the complete exhibit of the State Board of Horticulture showing every phase of its activities from the extermination of insect pests to the grafting of papershell walnuts on an oak tree.

The complete commercial package exhibit, showing fruits in graded boxes and standard containers with a cold storage plant for fruits, is grouped around the state board's display. A citrus fruit orchard scene with bearing trees blends into a painted background.

Each of the four corners of the main space are filled with great pyramids made up of all sorts of canned and processed fruits, grouped by products as well as by the counties making the exhibits.

A beautiful booth is devoted to the nut industry, showing new ways of utilizing almonds, walnuts, and pecans. The dried fruit industry is equally well represented.

Just within the facades and in all the arches there are lines of tables nearly 50 feet long filled with basket and fruit displays of fruits of all kinds.

The visitors who are thirsty will be regaled with soft drinks such as real California orange punch, grape juice and less known but equally promising beverages.

Manufacturers and packers have sales departments in connection with their exhibits.

Among the working exhibits of processes in the California section is an improved prune grader with an attachment for packing. Olive sorting and packing devices also are shown.

In separate exhibits in other parts of the palace are large highly educational fruit packing, grading and processing plants running at full blast.

Every foot of space in this five acre palace is being filled with pomological products and working exhibits of the many states and nations and most of them are operating exhibits but it will remain for the counties of California to amaze the world with their products.

The Palace of Horticulture at the Exposition is at the left of the main entrance gate and occupies the same relative position as Festival Hall, which will be the scene of much of the ceremony of the county dedication days. The Palace of Horticulture is in great part copied from the architecture of the Mosque of Sultan Ahmed I, and its spires and minarets are truly Saracenic.

The detail of the ornamentation is of the French Renaissance and the huge glass dome is the largest of glass in the world. It is 185 feet high and 152 feet in diameter. Under this dome is the greater part of the Cuban exhibit of tropical trees and plants.

The Palace of Horticulture dome is one of the big features in the night illumination. It has its own battery of powerful searchlights and its own carefully designed mechanism for night display.

The procession of wraiths, spirits, gnomes and a complete universe have produced an effect which has been likened to the beauty of a giant opal and to the bewildering fantasy of a gigantic soap bubble.
